KUDOS

A special thank you to Jorge De Leon for presenting and providing the staff with helpful strategies on Autism. Kudos to Consuelo Mandujano for holding the staff meeting in your beautiful and organized room. Thank you to Alicia Arriaga for sharing highlights and awesome apps from the Good Teaching Conference. Thank you to all staff for being flexible during the construction. Thank you to Nova Rodriguez and the Sunshine Committee for organizing Treat Day-I loved the Italian Theme. Kudos to Maria Barrera for keeping our campus clean and safe. Thank you to Betty Mosqueda and Daisy Alcalá for taking pictures of our wonderful students and staff. Thank you to the PBIS Committee for an informative meeting. Kudos to Maya Holland for going above and beyond and for meeting with several of the grade levels during PLC time.

COMMON CORE

Before creating text-dependent questions, select a text that's complex quantitatively (readability levels), qualitatively (how language is used or knowledge demands placed on students), or complex based on your purposes. The text chosen for close reading should be more challenging than texts students encounter during other literacy activities. Your text-dependent questions should require students to think more deeply each time they reread this text.

Where is your thinking??

WITHIN the text	BEYOND the text	ABOUT the text
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •What was the problem in the story? •Talk about how this story ended. •How was the problem solved? •What happened when _____ happened? •What happened after _____? •What was the mystery in this story? •What was the surprise at the end? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •Why do you think _____ really wanted _____? •What do you think _____ was thinking? •Why was _____ important? •What lesson did the character learn? •What kind of person do you think _____ was? •What was the most important idea? •What new information did you learn? •How are _____ and _____ different? The same? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •What are some of the different kinds of text in this book? •Why do you think the author _____? •Why do you think this picture was used? •What did the author do to make _____ interesting? •How did the author show you what kind of person _____ was? •In addition to the main text, how did the author give you more information about _____?

			CONGRATS! Congratulations to Mrs. Esparza's class for reaching half a million words in AR. Great Job!

PBIS/HIGHLIGHTS

Schools that establish systems such as PBIS have teaching and learning environments that are:

- Less reactive, averse, dangerous, and exclusionary
- More engaging, responsive, preventive, and productive
- Address classroom management and disciplinary issues
- Improve supports for students whose behaviors require more specialized assistance
- Maximizes academic engagement and achievement for all students

Thank you to Dr. Gaige Bailey for inviting me to see your student's engaging in text.

Thank you Jorge De Leon and Alicia Arriaga for all your valuable information during our last staff meeting.
