KUDOS

Thank you to Maya for training individuals on how to perform the CELDT. Kudos to Olga Mares, Aurora Ortega and Eugene Mosqueda for assisting me with the Kick Off Assembly. Thank you to Veronica Saccone, Carlie Gallegos, and Consuelo Mandujano for helping Jose Solorio with his classroom. Kudos to Jaime Ceja for going over the SpellingCity website with the staff. Thank you to Ernesto Felix and Rosario Sandoval for catching errors on the Map Schedule. Kudos to Helen Esparza for all your help with Fun Friday. Thank you to Desiree Ceja, Jaime Ceja, John Gomez and Alicia Dominguez for your input regarding the parking lot.

THINK-PAIR-SHARE

The Think-Pair-Share strategy is designed to differentiate instruction by providing students time and structure for thinking on a given topic, enabling them to formulate individual ideas and share these ideas with a peer. This learning strategy promotes classroom participation by encouraging a high degree of pupil response, rather than using a basic recitation method in which a teacher poses a question and one student offers a response. Additionally, this strategy provides an opportunity for all students to share their thinking with at least one other student which, in turn, increases their sense of involvement in classroom learning. Think-Pair-Share can also be used as an information assessment tool; as students discuss their ideas, the teacher can circulate and listen to the conversations taking place and respond accordingly.
